SECTION VII DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

Fort Jesus World Heritage Site was built by the Portuguese over 500 years ago at the end of the 16th century over a spur of coral rock, and kept under their control for one century, Fort Jesus, Mombasa, bears testimony to the first successful attempt by Western civilization to rule the Indian ocean trade routes, which, until then had remained under Eastern influence. The design of the Fort, with its proportions, its imposing walls and five bastions, reflects the military architectural theory of the Renaissance. It bears physical witness, in its structures and subsequent transformations, also to the interchange of cultural values and influences between and among peoples of African, Arab, Turkish, Persian and European origin that fought to gain and maintain their control over this strategic port. Fort Jesus was listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2011. Today Fort Jesus World Heritage site has suffered the effects of climate change on its foundations, prompting National Museums of Kenya to secure funding to ensure the protection of the Fort Jesus World Heritage Site which is necessary as part fulfilment of the Nation's mandate of taking care of World Heritage Sites under its jurisdiction under the UNESCO's World Heritage Convention of 1972. The protection works were in two phases, Phase 1 included building of a sea wall located on the foundations of the original outer protection wall built by the Portuguese over 500 years ago with a running length of 200metres. The enclosed area of 0.8ha or 2 acres was backfilled and landscaped under Phase 2 and which is the subject of this tender process.

Use of the Fort Jesus Mzalendo Heritage Gardens will be in line with the following core principles:

- a) Ensuring that heritage has a use in the everyday lives of the communities it exists in and hence incorporating community concerns and equitable participation of the socio-economic benefits of its exploitation
- b) Just as societies are evolving, interpretation of heritage has to be cognizant of new processes and technologies of documenting, interpreting and consumption of heritage products

Therefore, the envisaged facilities and activities for Fort Jesus Mzalendo Heritage Gardens will be, but not limited to:

1. In Garden Water Sports and Facilities – Pools and Water Fountains
2. Outdoor Gym Facilities
3. Football/Volleyball Sports
4. Outdoor events at the Amphitheatre and the Lower Gardens
5. Physical Heritage Interactive Games for Children
6. Heritage Interpretation Signage
7. Digital Heritage Interactive Interfaces
8. At least 3 food serving points – 1 semi-permanent and 2 temporary fixtures

9. 1 additional ablution block with consideration for changing facilities for water sports or the gym facilities

FACTORS TO BE CONSIDERED

The Fort Jesus Mzalendo Heritage Gardens have a number of stakeholders who should be considered in the running of the facilities.

- Community stakeholders/Public Participation – They have been holding football activities as part of the community engagement. The public has had free access to the external facilities of the Fort.
- KHETI – This is part of the National Museums of Kenya and hosts a training facility as well as a public library. This facility will have direct access to the gardens. A reading space should be considered for those visiting the public library. The running and management of KHETI shall remain under National Museums of Kenya.
- The Butterfly House – As part of the natural heritage programs, the National Museums of Kenya has a Butterfly House that the public visits. Linkages should be made between the Gardens and the Butterfly sanctuary. The running and management of Butterfly house shall remain under National Museums of Kenya.
- Swahili Pot – This is a youth engagement tech-hub that incorporates creatives. They have been actively using the Amphitheatre.
- Fort Jesus Museum (monument) shall continue being run and managed by National Museums of Kenya
